

Cowles Clinic medical campus holds grand opening event

Lake Oconee Breeze

GREENSBORO – The Cowles Clinic, a multi-specialty medical campus located on Linger Longer Road, recently celebrated its grand opening by hosting a Business After Hours event in conjunction with the Greene County Chamber of Commerce on Sept. 30.

Dr. Robert S. Cowles' vision for the multi-specialty medical campus has finally come to life with the completion of the first phase of the Cowles Clinic. It is his hope that the medical campus will touch the lives of many Lake Oconee residents by providing exceptional healthcare by leading physicians who are committed to their patients.

The campus is made up of various cottages utilized by individual physicians, specialty groups and medical labs.

The Cypress Cottage is currently housing Dr. Cowles and the Atlanta Center for Urology. It was announced during the Business After Hours event that St. Joseph's Hospital of Atlanta will be joining with the Cowles Clinic and will open its multi-specialty clinic on the first floor of the Cypress Cottage.

St. Joseph's Healthcare System will offer the services of various medical specialists who will begin on a part-time basis but who will evolve into a full-time presence.

The recently completed Dogwood Cottage is housing Dr. Janet Griffin's Internal Medicine office and will soon offer an Executive Health Clinic and an American Wellness sleep lab and neurology practice.

The Atlanta Cardiology Group, along with a full, non-invasive cardiac lab and a comprehensive medical lab will be located in the Aspen Cottage which is already under construction and will be ready in November.

An Imaging Center and the remaining four specialty and medical retail cottages are slated to be completed by the spring of 2005. The radiation and cancer center is set to begin construction in 2005.

The commitment to providing exceptional full-time and part-time specialty healthcare to patients at Lake Oconee and the surrounding areas is one of the founding commitments of the Cowles Clinic. The combination of the highest quality specialty healthcare and having a local facility in the community improves the quality of life for both patients and their families.

The Cowles Clinic is located at 1000 Cowles Clinic Way off Linger Longer Road. For more information, call (706) 454-0111.
